LONDON, March 18.—Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador to Berlin, was instructed today to inform the German government that Great Britain regards Chancellor Hitler's coup of Czechoslovakia as illegal.

An official announcement stated Sir Neville was instructed to inform Wilhelmstrasse that the British government regards the changes effected by German military actions in Czechoslovakia as "without legal basis."

It also was announced that the British envoy had been ordered to inform Berlin that in the opinion of the British government the recent event in Czechoslovakia represented "complete repudiation" of the Four-Power Munich agreement signed by Britain, Germany, France and Italy.

Sir Neville also was told to convey the British government's opinion that Hitler's action repudiated the undertaking of peaceful cooperation exchanged at the time of the Munich agreement by the four parties to the agreement.

Administration Drive To Repeal Neutrality Act Is Being Started

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

WASHINGTON, March 18.—An administration drive to repeal the Neutrality Act, so the United States can help arm the democracies of Europe in event they are attacked by the totalitarian powers, was under way in congress today as a direct result of Germany's seizure of Czechoslovakia.

This administration move, a continuance of its present policy of furnishing munitions to the democracies in advance of action, was met with stiff opposition on Capitol Hill. It was apparent congress will not be stampeded into repealing the Neutrality Act.

At the same time, sponsors of the war referendum resolution and the bill to take the profits out of war sailed into action. Senators La Follette (D), Wisconsin, and Clark (D), Missouri, are lining up witnesses to appear at a public hearing in support of the war referendum. Led by Senator Bone (D) of Washington, 42 senators already have signed a bill to take profits out of war. They propose to introduce it next week.

The Capitol meanwhile debated the question of what will happen next in Europe. There was wide (Continued On Page Two)

BUCHAREST, March 18.—In the face of foreign reports painting Rumania as the center of Europe's newest crisis, the Rumanian government today formally denied that any "economic ultimatum" had been received from Germany or that mobilization was in progress.

Foreign Minister Grigore Gafencu received the International News Service correspondent and made this statement:

"I authorize you to deny foreign reports that Germany has sent an ultimatum to Rumania. He himself (Dr. Wilhelm) Field Marshal Hermann Goering's economic representative is conducting negotiations here for extension of the German-Rumanian trade treaty."

"The negotiations are proceeding in a friendly spirit and everything is normal."

A formal communique along the same lines was drafted for general publication.

Reports in London of Rumanian mobilization were rejected as untrue, more troops than usual are moving in the frontier districts, but this is due to the situation in Carpatho-Ukraine, it was stated.

PARIS, March 18.—Aligning himself with Britain in the "stop Hitler" movement by recalling France's ambassador from Berlin for consultation, Premier Edouard Daladier prepared today to order the Maginot line completely manned at war-time strength.

The powerful radical socialist party voted to support Daladier in his demand for powers to establish a "dictatorship of defense." The stocky premier laid his plans to place France on a "basis of security" the moment parliament grants him plenary powers.

"I have my eyes fixed on the frontier," he said. "It is possible I will have more important decisions to make. I want to be free to make them by decree."

U. S. Imposes Penalties On Nazi Germany

Drastic Economic Penalties
Are Imposed By Government Today

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The United States government today imposed drastic economic penalties on Nazi Germany.

The penalties came in the form of countervailing duties on German products which will add heavily to customs levies.

The action extended the trade "blacklisting" of Germany by the American government and, so far as this country is concerned, amounts to an "economic blockade" which President Roosevelt has urged against the Nazis.

Announcement of this government's action came from the treasury department and followed swiftly on the heels of an official American denunciation of Germany's seizure of Czechoslovakia.

Berlin Plans To Welcome Hitler

(International News Service)

BERLIN, March 18.—Nazi formations began gathering, streets were bedecked and houses beflagged today for a "Seig Heil" welcome to Chancellor Adolf Hitler tomorrow which will probably exceed any demonstration ever seen in Berlin.

Hailed as a conquering hero in Vienna, after his Czech coup, the Fuehrer was believed to have decided to come to Berlin tomorrow instead of tonight, starting a spectacular night entrance for the benefit of the Sunday crowds.

Coming on the heels of the resignation of Dr. John B. Sutherland, head Pitt football coach, and the withdrawal of John P. (Little Clipper) Smith, Duquesne University football mentor, Cor's resignation fell as a new surprise on local sports circles.

'Monroe Doctrine' For Central Europe Hitler's Answer To His Critics

By PIERRE J. HUSS

BERLIN, March 18.—A Teutonic "Monroe Doctrine" for central Europe was proclaimed by Germany today as Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's angry answer to British and American condemnation of his "protectorate" over Czechoslovakia.

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, who last night bitterly denounced Hitler for "unbroken promises," was accused by the German government of "extreme prejudice" and "Summer Welles, acting United States secretary of state, who labelled the Czech affair as "wanton lawlessness," was branded as an "idle dreamer."

Protests Will Not Halt Action
The world might just as well realize, it was pointed out, that the Nazi Germany is acting now "just as the United States acted in Texas and California," and it was made abundantly clear that no protests from abroad would avert Hitler from his chosen path.

American Treasury Gold Stocks Swell To Record-Shattering Peak

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Fresh political turmoil in Europe today precipitated a new flow of "panic" capital to the United States and swelled the American treasury's gold stocks to a record-shattering peak of $15,000,000,000.

Counting millions of dollars in bullion now on the high seas en route to this country, plus the treasury's balances held abroad, The United States now possesses close to 60 per cent of the world's visible gold supply.

With each foreign crisis there has been a recurring flight of funds to this country for safe-keeping. Part of this money is held on deposit in banks, while some of it seeks a more permanent haven through investment in American stocks and bonds.

A total of $57,000,000 of gold came into the United States, according to commerce department statistics. This was an increase of nearly $20,000,000 over the preceding week. Of last week's gold imports, $34,500,000 came from the United Kingdom. Belgium shipped $4,000,000 and Holland, $9,000,000.

Progress Of Girl Scouts In

To bring a fitting climax to their celebration of National Girl Scout Week, over 650 Scouts, parents and friends gathered in the auditorium of the Senior High school, Friday evening, for a rally.

In a very clever fashion, as the pages of a huge book were turned the progress of the Girl Scouts in this district during 1938 was unfolded before an appreciative audience. As the living characters of the book, a complete history of Scouting in Lawrence county was told.

Thirty Troops Represented
Representatives of each of the 30 Scout Troops in this district stepped from the book and told how 349 merit badges were attained by the local ladies in 1938.

In the portrayal it was brought out that Girl Scout work trains the young woman for whatever walk of life she might choose to follow in later years. Between hobbies and vocations, can be found in Girl Scouting an exponent for every profession open for women.

Miss Helen MacLean, Girl Scout Director, was in charge of the program, and introduced the various girls and events.

This event was the first annual Spring Rally, and was to mark the 27th anniversary of the Scout movement.

Suspend Wage Discussion Till Monday Morning

NEW YORK, March 18.—Contract conferences between the United Mine Workers Union and soft coal operators were suspended for the week-end today after a series of meetings which ended in a report of "no progress" from both sides.

Insistence of John L. Lewis on an agreement for continuation of the existing contract after March 31 if no agreement has been reached, indicated that he and his aides do not expect that an agreement will be reached.

Taking the opposite view, the operators have refused "to cross the bridge until we come to it" and have maintained that there is no reason for discussing the situation after March 31 while several weeks remain in which to arrive at a new contract basis.

PARIS, March 18.—The Anglo-French "stop Hitler" movement took the positive form today when the French government, acting in close concert with Great Britain, decided to "recall for questioning" Robert Coulondre, its ambassador to Berlin.

The possibility of his permanent recall as a sharp gesture of reproof to Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler is being "seriously considered." It was stated at the foreign office.

The decision to recall the envoy to make his report on central European developments will be announced this afternoon.

Seizures Not Legitimate
Meanwhile, the ambassador was instructed to hand a note to the German government announcing France will refuse to recognize Germany's intervention in Czechoslovakia as legitimate.

Foreign Ministers Georges Bonnet ordered Coulondre to state that Germany's action in Czechoslovakia was, in the French view, a violation of the Munich pact and also a violation of the Franco-German agreement of Dec. 6.

Coulondre is expected to arrive in Paris Monday after delivering the views of his government to the Wilhelmstrasse.

Bonnet also ordered him to give the Berlin government a verbal picture of the French point of view regarding recent developments in central Europe.

Answer Trio Of Alarms In Night

Firemen answered three alarms during the night, none of which were for fires of any consequence. Shortly after 10 o'clock, someone called in and stated that there was a fire at 320 Crawford avenue, but firemen were unable to find any trace of a fire in that neighborhood. At 12:25 a. m. firemen were called to Croton avenue, when E. A. Bartsch of 205 Wallace avenue set fire to the brake lining of his car, driving with the brake on.

At 3:50 o'clock this morning they were summoned to the home of Frank Burnides of 411 Neshaonock avenue, when the flue pipe became clogged, filling the house with smoke.

NEW ATTACKS ON ROOSEVELT FORECAST

By PIERRE J. HUSS

BERLIN, March 18.—German officialdom raged today against American and British criticism of Chancellor Adolf Hitler's territorial acquisitions in what once was Czechoslovakia.

The two spearheads of that criticism—British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's speech at Birmingham and the declaration by Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles in Washington—were ignored by morning editions of German newspapers.

Authorities Enraged

But it was obvious that Nazi authorities were enraged by words of Chamberlain and Welles, who from opposite sides of the Atlantic hurled epithets at the Reich's absorption of Bohemia, Moravia and Slovakia.

Criticism was directed anew at President Roosevelt for his reported intention to seek a change in the United States neutrality law.

The newspaper Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung stated:

"The so-called ideals of Woodrow Wilson led the Czechs to distress. Roosevelt's attempts to repeat Wilson's methods prove him deficient in knowledge of history, and cannot impress central Europe."

Whitehall authorities said the cabinet session was felt necessary to provide the ministers an opportunity of reviewing latest developments in the central European crisis.

The over-running of Ruthenia by Hungarian troops and the reports that Germany has served an "economic ultimatum" on Rumania, which was said to have been rejected forthwith, were considered particularly disturbing.

HILLSVILLE GIRL FREED BY JURY FRIDAY NIGHT

Ingham, Foreman Edward M. Reilly, Jr., of Ellwood City read the verdict that sent the girl back to her home free.

Strong Demonstration

Despite Judge Brahm's warnings against a demonstration the crowd went "wild" as the verdict was announced. Cheers and whistles and feet stamping drowned out any more words of the jury foreman and Court Crier Clifford Vance tried vainly to restore order.

Visibly angry Judge Brahm ordered the court room cleared of spectators and Sheriff M. M. Ingham and his deputies did so. With the room cleared the returning of the verdict continued. For a moment Angeline seemed to sway against Mrs. Ingham and suddenly she burst out into unbridled sobbing. Mrs. Ingham put her arms about the girl and held her for several minutes.

Given Freedom

Attorney Samuel L. Clark moved immediately for discharge from his custody of his client and this was done. A moment later Angeline was in the corridor, thanking what jurors she saw and receiving the congratulations of friends.

Her pathway to the jail was between rows of cheering spectators and in the jail office she held a reception that might have been accorded a trans-Atlantic flyer.

"I am so happy" she said. "Introduced to Elmer Earl Badger, juror number one she said, 'I knew you wouldn't send me to the electric chair, I knew you folks would believe my story.' Her father almost inarticulate from joy managed to get his thanks out and after bidding goodbye to some cell mates in the jail, Angeline was loaded into an automobile and started on her way to Hillsville. There the celebration of the victory of Angeline over the law started as soon as she got home. For hours the little Maravola home was the scene of jubilation but near midnight the crowd thinned out, the lights went down and Angeline retired in her own bed for the first time in six weeks.

Women Win

While the jury was finally unanimous in its verdict of acquittal, the lead in that direction was taken by the four women who were on it. According to one juror whose name is withheld for obvious reasons, "the four women were for acquittal from the minute we stepped into the jury room."

"The first ballot was seven to five for acquittal upon the charge of manslaughter" said the unnamed juror.

"After the first ballot we debated the case for a long time. The women cried but were adamant in their stand for acquittal. They gave us no particular reasons for their stand other than citing another Lawrence case in the past few years when a woman was freed for killing a man. The women felt that Angeline ought to get the same treatment. Upon each ballot a juror would swing over until the count was eleven to one. Then the lone juror voted for acquittal."

Believe "Justice"

Counsel for Angeline, Attorneys Edwin K. Logan and Samuel L. Clark were jubilant over their victory and said "we believe Angeline has gotten justice. District Attorney John G. Lamoree and former Judge James A. Chambers made no comment.

Angeline Maravola shot and killed Michael A. Rich in the home of the young man's father in Hillsville on February 3. She immediately gave herself up to Constable C. N. Shingledacker and in the residence of Sheriff M. M. Ingham made a confession of the shooting, citing unrequited love as the reason for her act. This confession she repudiated when she went to trial and pleaded self defense.

Michael A. Rich, Sr., and his boys were not in court when the verdict was received. On the telephone Joseph Rich, a brother of the deceased man said bitterly when he heard the verdict, "that's Lawrence county law."

in Berlin on reports reaching London that Germany had served something of an "economic ultimatum" on Rumania in furtherance of Hitler's "drive to the east."

But so far as Bohemia, Moravia and Slovakia are concerned, the government took the view that what happened was inevitable.

"The Reich has created and is carrying out its own Monroe Doctrine in central Europe," a spokesman for the government told this correspondent.

"Germany considers itself entirely justified, and is just as much entitled to do this as the United States in its own particular sphere of influence."

spread conflict of opinion over Europe's future and the next move of Adolf Hitler. Beneath this speculation, however, ran a strong demand for America to "mind its own business" and keep out of involvement in Europe's internal eruptions.

The government's denunciation of Hitler for seizing Czechoslovakia drew generous approval in congress. Many Democrats and Republicans agreed with acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles that Germany was guilty of "wanton lawlessness" and that her conduct was a "threat of world peace."

It was expected the chamber will vote formally this afternoon on Daladier's request for dictatorial authority.

In voting down the motion to discontinue the debate, the chamber gave what amounted to a vote of confidence in Daladier's demand for continuation of his powers.

The vote on the motion was 334 to 258, which is indicative of the majority Daladier is expected to have in the vote on the plenary powers he seeks this afternoon.

Step Toward Dictatorship

When today's debate began the finance committee reported out to the chamber the majority of the measures contemplated by the government.

Deputy De Kerillis, attacking the government, termed Daladier's request the "first step toward a dictatorship."

He insisted that Daladier was aware of German troop concentrations as early as March 6.

Foreign Minister Briet denied this charge, and said that the French government learned of the German troop movements only on March 11. He added:

"We immediately consulted England."

Meanwhile, French newspapers agreed that a strong government was necessary for France at the present juncture but were divided on the question whether it should be a national union government or whether Daladier's present regime should be fully supported.

FROM Chicago a mother writes: "My boy is just 11, studious, loves reading, music and does very well in his school subjects. But he hates his gym periods. The boys in his class are older and much stronger, and he has often come home with the feeling of not being able to cope with them. He has asked if I would have him excused from these periods, which I have thought would be the wrong thing to do. So for several years I have insisted he go through with them."

"Recently," he said, "Mother, I really want you to know why I dislike gym so much. I feel like an outcast, as no one ever calls on me to be on their side. Another fat boy and I are left until there is no one else. It is the only thing I take in school where I don't feel they want me."

Had Him Excused

"That settled my mind, so I have him leave school at the beginning of the period which is just before lunch period, and in the few weeks of this arrangement he is much happier and has gained two pounds."

"Am I right in doing what I have? Should I let him go on trying to adjust himself to something he has been so unsuccessful with during the past few years?"

My answer: "While I can see how you could not bear to see your boy suffer as he did, I have a notion you merely postpone the time when he will have to suffer still more. We don't help a child by encouraging him to run away from his troubles."

For Present
"Inasmuch as any sudden shift may prove hazardous to the child, let me suggest that you let the matter go as at present till the end of the term, but that in due time you make clear to the boy that beginning with next term he shall enter the regular gym class. Until then, you might find ways through a club or some good leader of boys to help him lead practice in some of the play skills most likely to be exercised in the gym."

"Before the next term begins you should confer, tactfully, with the gym teacher he will have, entreating him to find ways to develop courage and self-confidence in this and the other timid pupils, and set up some good leader of boys to help him lead practice in some of the play skills most likely to be exercised in the gym."

Common Problem
Had the first gym teacher been wiser, the problem hardly would have arisen, and this problem is painfully common in physical education programs. The teacher should exercise enough genius to cultivate a sportsmanship among the pupils which would not put the major emphasis on winning.

I wish more physical education teachers would find ways of developing the awkward, timid pupils, those who need it most.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

YES THEY DIET!

Women, more than men, these days, are very anxious about their figures, and they are very busy consulting dieticians and doctors regarding ways and means by which they can reduce their embonpoint. The doctor and the dietician tell them all about calories and prescribe a strict diet for them. Some follow it and some do not.

One such woman was sitting in the specialist's waiting room. She rose and walked into the specialist's sanctum. The doctor threw up his hands in horror.

"My good woman!" he exclaimed, "you are stouter than ever! Have you been following the treatment I prescribed? Are you quite sure that you are exactly what I ordered?"

"Everything," replied the patient. "And nothing else!"

"Nothing whatever," she replied, "except, of course, my ordinary meals."

OLD MAN WITH A BROKEN NOSE

Hey little chap behind the glass, You may be "mighty like a rose," But look at the while I pose. The old man with the broken nose!

Since you've arrived I count no more, You've come between my wife and me. Our years of comradeship are o'er, With you, she hurries off to be.

For four and thirty years I've played Round here a most important part, But such a difference you have made! In four days you have won her heart!

"I won't be home tonight for tea! Sit up and read or go to bed!" That's all today she leaves for me! Notes on the table to be read!

"Take just one word of love from me," I cry to her, as off she goes, "And tell him I am glad to be The old man with the broken nose."

What's What At A Glance

Quintuple Parley Gets No Cheers
Washington Eyes Event With Wry Face
European Get-Together Is Hoax Idea

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Sir Samuel Hoare's scheme for a quintuple international conference to make world peace a permanent thing has evoked no wild cheers in Washington circles. Parenthetically, for the benefit of anyone who doesn't happen to know who Sir Sam is, he's the British minister of home affairs, roughly corresponding to our Secretary of the Interior. Just how the head of a strictly domestic cabinet department changes to be butting into the foreign situation isn't quite apparent. However, that's immaterial: Sir Sam is a thoroughly responsible functionary, anyway. Whatever he suggests unquestionably has Premier Chamberlain's wholehearted endorsement. It isn't because of any suspicion of going off at half-cock that Washington doesn't consider his proposal very serious.

True he didn't include the United States among the countries to be represented at the gabfest he advocates. He spoke specifically of Premiers Chamberlain and Daladier of Britain and France, Dictators Hitler and Mussolini of Germany and Italy, and Boss Stalin of Russia; those were the five he designated. But that was because he was urging, especially, a European get-together. Still, he recognized that it's hard to consider European interests independently of this republic, and emphasized his notion that we Yankees would be welcome to a voice in the discussion, giving the thing a sex-tuple aspect. In fact, I believe he was outright bidding for American participation. I don't imagine that he'd bar Japan, either—or China, or any other country that chose to "sit in" on the dickering. Briefly, he evidently aims at some sort of a revival of the League of Nations.

Washington Unenthusiastic

But Washington obviously is unenthusiastic. President Roosevelt, early in his first term, was credited with a desire for some kind of round-table similar to what Sir Samuel is trying to arrange. Yet, if he had such a plan in mind, the indications are that he subsequently has abandoned it entirely.

Hitler has been getting worse and worse since then; Mussolini considerably worse; Japan, a lot worse; Stalin, if not worse, is as bad as ever. It must be admitted that Germany and Italy didn't take the warpath quite as early this spring as had been anticipated, but they tried to argue sense with the use of it.

And Uncle Sam invariably is flummoxed in these negotiations. He's a poor diplomat. I suppose it's because he hasn't had so much experience as the Old World powers. He always comes out holding the bag in any event.

Look back to the early 1920's. Charles Evans Hughes, then Secretary of State, framed an arms limitation conference. In that era Uncle Sam had the whole world outbuilt navally. He likewise was in a position to keep them easily.

Cutting Up The Navy
He agreed to trim down to a 5-5-3 basis—a ratio of 5 for himself, 3 for Britain and 3 for Japan. We, as we and they were then, we easily could have made it 10-5-3. Naturally Britain and Japan thankfully accepted the 5-5-3 ratio. We actually scrapped the warships that we had under construction, to stick to the terms of our bargain.

But those pelicans, by a bunch of technicalities, so outmaneuvered us that, in a few years, Britain had far outbuilt us, and Japan is about 50-50 with our sea strength and, nevertheless, we couldn't contend, according to Hoyle, that we'd been swindled.

It isn't so trifling as to Japan. We expect the Japanese to out-bargain us if they can do it. But it's exasperating as to the British. Those boys were too smart for their own subsequent good.

Having been thimble-rigged by 'em once, we're skeptical.

Not that we like the totalitarianism more. But we're "skeery" of some of the democracies.

ALL of them are conservatives; some of them are doing really good work, and one or two are reasonably close to the President—not members of the "inner circle," perhaps, but nevertheless not without influence and the personal touch. It is a great pity these men should harbor the belief that at great sacrifice and with rare patriotism they are unselfishly serving their country. That is sheer bunk and they ought to know it. It is a stuffy and absurd pose. They are making reputations, acquiring experiences and meeting people, for all of which they were wholly shut off before they came here. They are having the best time they ever had in their lives. They ought to clear their heads, abandon the pose and shut off the publicity before they become ridiculous. It isn't pleasant and it detracts from their value as public men. It wouldn't be a bad thing for them to talk to some time with Mr. Jesse Jones. He is one rich man in the Administration who never had that idea about himself, though he has as much justification as any—and more than most.

Polish Falcons Of New Castle To Play Shelby Socials In Exhibition Match

ELLWOOD CITY, March 18.—A hot battle will be staged at the Shelby court tonight when the Cold Finish and Hot Finish will meet for the second game of the play-off series to determine the 1938-39 titleholder of the Shelby inter-department league.

Last Saturday night, the Hot Finish, defending champs, staged a spectacular last quarter drive to decisively win the first tilt and if they can repeat that performance they will retain their crown. The Cold Finish, which sailed through the second half with the record speed of a modern ocean liner, have other ideas about the outcome and they are not going to leave the crown slip out of their grasp without a desperate struggle. With both teams on their toes, tonight's game, to begin no later than 7:15, is one of the headlines of the year.

To provide a full bill of entertainment for hardwood devotees, an exhibition match has been arranged as the main attraction with the powerful Polish Falcons of New Castle and the Shelby Socials. Only by the slight margin of a point or so were the Falcons nosed out of the finals of the Lawrence county basketball tournament last night at New Castle. They are one of the outstanding teams to appear on the local floor this season and the game promises to provide plenty of fast playing and excitement for the bleacher crowd. The Falcons roster is composed principally of former New Castle high school stars, a number being members of this year's team.

The usual Saturday night dance will follow the games at 10 o'clock.

SALLY'S SALLIES

Never bluff unless you've something to bluff with—then you needn't.

Germany Today Much Larger Than Reich Before War

Germany today, thanks to the aggressive central European expansion program of Chancellor Hitler, is 25 per cent greater in area and 33 per cent greater in population than the pre-war continental Germany.

Meanwhile, Germany's old ally, Austria, shrank down to a fraction of its former size by the Versailles treaty, has disappeared entirely, absorbed by the Nazi power. In 1914 continental Germany's area was 202,780 square miles, population 67,812,000. The Versailles treaty in 1920 cut this to 181,500 square miles with a population of 60,000,000.

Acquisition of the Saar basin land and annexation in 1938, of Austria and the Sudeten section of Czechoslovakia brought Germany above pre-war size in area and population with totals of 224,992 square miles and 71,180,000 citizens. Creation of a Greater Germany through establishment of "protectorates" over the old Czechoslovak provinces of Bohemia, Moravia and Slovakia increase the size of the German Reich to 258,263 square miles and a population estimated at more than 88,100,000. This makes Germany by far the largest European continental power west of the Soviet Union.

Biggs, faculty member and head of the Westminster news bureau, who plans to make similar pictorial recordings of student life each year. Scenes depicted highlight events during the past college year.

Appeal Will Be Filed Monday On Chain Store Tax

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, March 18—An appeal will be filed Monday with the state supreme court from the Dauphin court decision invalidating the graduated chain store tax, Attorney General Claude T. Reno has announced.

The James administration was said to be hopeful a reversal could be had of the commonwealth court's decision against the Earle administration measure, thus enabling the state to obtain $2,250,000 a year in revenue.

The money was to have been used chiefly to increase to $1,000 the $800-$900 yearly salaries of some 24,000 fourth class district school teachers. The measure levied a $1 to $500 tax on chain stores and theatres.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright 1938, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

MODERN SURGICAL SCIENCE GIVES NEW HOPE TO OTHER- WISE DOOMED INDIVIDUALS.

Annette was the quintuplet born not so much with an abnormality as a deficiency. You see, the Quints were born at least two months prematurely. When Annette was examined, we found that one hip joint hadn't been completely formed yet. If we weren't careful, there was a good chance that it would never form properly, and that she would be partially lame all her life. So we kept her very quiet—that is, as quiet as we could—and gave her diet special attention so that the joint went on to form just as it should. Annette today is just as free from lameness as any normal child.

Not long ago when I was on a visit to New York, I had brought to my attention what I considered a very unusual case where plastic surgery was employed to save a child from an abnormality which would undoubtedly have spoiled its entire life.

The baby was a victim of a condition known as hypospadias. It is a very grave deformity of the reproductive organs. In the malformation which occurred, the urethra, which is the canal from the bladder, had an exterior and unnatural opening in the lower part of the body.

At first physicians suspected a serious, biological aberration, but further examination confirmed the diagnosis of hypospadias.

The child was only a couple of days old when the doctors in the hospital decided to operate on him. They felt that he could make him into a normal boy.

Two delicate operations were necessary in the course of which the unnatural opening in the body was closed and the bladder canal was extended until it was of normal length.

Of course two operations may not be enough. The surgeons who are looking after the baby may decide that further operations will be necessary, but the main thing is that this child will be made normal physically.

Without that operation the child would not only have been the victim of a serious physical handicap, but he would in all likelihood have developed unfortunate emotional and character traits which would have ruined his whole existence.

Such cases of hypospadias are fortunately not very common, but I thought this was an impressive example of the way modern medical science can give a normal life to an otherwise doomed individual.

Boys Complete Plans For A. Z. A. Sabbath

Annual Service Will Be Conducted In Tifereth Israel Synagogue March 24

Milton Rogovin, chairman of the religious committee of A. Z. A. junior order of B'nai B'rith, announces that plans are completed for the annual A. Z. A. Sabbath, to be held Friday evening, March 24, in Tifereth Israel Synagogue at 8 p. m. The boys will be in charge of the evening's program.

The prayers of the evening will be offered by Phillip Slavovskiy, Ted Marlin will lead the services, assisted by Milt Rogovin, and the sermon of the evening will be given by Harvey Lewis, champion orator of Western Pennsylvania.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Milk remains the great food of the world.

The United States produces 106 billion pounds a year. This averages 825 pounds of milk per person per year.

Where does it all go? People consume as fluid milk and cream 30 billion pounds. Manufactured dairy products take 50 billion pounds.

Butter, alone, requires 30 billion pounds of milk a year.

Cheese takes about six per cent of all the milk.

Ice cream utilizes between 12 and four per cent.

Farms use between 12 and 13 billion pounds of the milk.

More than 25 million cows produce this country's milk.

People should drink more milk. It is so good for them.

China's Mata Hari Has No Fear Of $250,000 Japanese Reward Placed On Her Head

(International News Service)

LONDON—Traveling across Europe today on her way home to China, Miss Yang Hui-Ming, China's Mata Hari, was trying to forget the menacing offer of a $250,000 reward by the Japanese for her capture dead or alive.

Her exploits as a spy have brought forth the undisguised admiration of her countrymen who regard her as a modern Joan of Arc rather than a Mata Hari.

Time and again she has saved the lives of thousands of China's soldiers by returning from Japanese territory with news of large troop movements. A boy scout organizer in Shanghai when the war broke out, she cropped her hair, and dressing like a boy, found it ridiculously simple for her to creep into the Japanese lines almost daily.

Japanese infuriated Several daring exploits rapidly brought her into the limelight until the Japanese, infuriated at her success in obtaining closely-guarded military secrets, placed the $250,000 reward on her head.

One of her most stirring exploits was with the Chinese "Doomed Battalion" which in 1937 held a warehouse in Shanghai for several days, stubbornly holding up the Japanese advance.

Establishing contact with these Chinese, she crawled into the warehouse and wrapping the Chinese flag round her waist, brought it out through the Japanese ranks, upholding the "Doomed Battalion's" honor. To blazon to the world the Chinese fight, Miss Yang visited America six months ago. She also acted as delegate to the International Youth Congress there.

Enroute To China

After a short stay in London, she is now on her way back to China where she will try to find her father a rich Chinese merchant, who together with her mother, six sisters and two brothers vanished during the war.

Miss Yang is defiant of the Japanese: "I shall see what work there is for me to do when I return. I am not troubled about the price on my head. The poorest Chinese peasant would not betray me," she said.

Sixteen To Engage In Eight Bouts Here Monday Night

SIX NEW FACES ON FISTIC PICTURE

Sixteen amateur boxers finished heavy training this afternoon, will taper off Sunday and be ready to climb through the ropes Monday night to engage in eight Amateur Athletic Union scraps in the Arena. The first bout will begin at 8:30 p. m.—The Jefferson A. C. is in charge of the show. The West Side Tigers basketball team is co-sponsor of the show because some of the receipts will go toward buying new uniforms. Although Vic Ferrand of Pittsburgh and Steve Morgan of Youngstown, who at present is a student in Bethany college, are doctored for the feature role there are other equally good-looking scraps on the calendar. Morgan has fought some sterling battles here and Ferrand upset the dope when he defeated Joe Gaynor who is also a Bethany student. They will weigh about 165 pounds.

WONDER BABY

PORTLAND, Ore.—Although born nine months ago, Phillip Devin is ready to play ball games with the best anyone can find at the drop of the hat. Phillip, known as Portland's "wonder baby," walked, spoke several words and drank unassisted from a glass at the age of six months. Now at the age of nine months his favorite sports are wrestling, ball games, tap dancing and riding the elevators in the apartment house where he lives. Besides lacing his own teeth and shoes, Phillip brushes his own teeth and his mother has no trouble with his diet, as he likes everything.

Keystones Are New City-County Champs, Trip Falcons 37-35

Keystones Play Brilliantly To Upset Dope Bucket And Chase Falcons

Sammy Bullano And Bus Strausbaugh Spark Keys, Big Crowd Sees Windup

Playing a steady brand of basketball in every period, looking the part of real champions in every sense of the word, the Keystone A. C. basketball team last night annexed the 1939 City-County championship before a packed audience at the George Washington Junior High floor. The score was 37 to 35 and was the finest played game of the entire tournament.

Jumping away to an early lead the Keystones under the veteran Andy "Coots" Venditto served warning on the Falcons after the first few minutes of play that it was going to be a tough battle all the way.

Keys Take Lead

The first period saw the Keystones away out in front at 12 to 5. Eddie "Bus" Strausbaugh and Sammy Bullano sparked the Keys in the first period, with all 12 of the points between them. The Falcons simply could not fathom the Keystone defense and failed to obtain a field goal in the first period, but at the foul line they were perfection. Marion Snizek having three fouls to his own credit.

The Falcons outscored the Keys in the second period, with the quarter ending 19 to 13 and the South Jefferson street boys still out in front of the parade. Nickie Gennock, Morrison and Gallagher supplied the Keystone points in the second period.

Gabby Kendra, Eddie Wenda, Ryglinski and Henie Koszela had the Falcons points in the second period. It was not until midway in the second stanza that the Falcons got a field goal and Kendra made it.

The Falcons put on the best show in the third period and when the timers gun boomed out the end of the quarter it was all tied up at 24-24. The Falcons again outscored the Keys, this time 11 to 5. Kendra, Eddie Koszela, Ryglinski had the most of the Falcon points in the third period.

With the start of the fourth and final period, the Keystones started a spurt that soon put them up in front again and with Bullano leading the way had the Falcons on the defense the biggest part of the period. Eddie Koszela and Marion Snizek kept the Falcons in the game in the final period, with nine of the points between them.

Morrison-Gennock Shine Play was fast and furious in the final minutes of the last period, the Keystones trying to protect their lead, and the Falcons desperate for points. It was in the last season that the cool-headed work of Paul Morrison and Nickie Gennock stood out for the Keystones.

The Keystones are getting the blarney of the fans today for their brilliant performance and championship and rightfully so. They defeated the Fannins, Madison A. C., Bessemer Indies and the Falcons, all very fine teams. Once again Andy Venditto has brought his Keys through to the championship.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

New Road Plans
Are Discussed

Public Meeting At Mahoning School On Route 18 Proposition Well Attended

JOHN B. BRETTELL
CONDUCTS MEETING

Meeting in the Mahoning school auditorium, Friday night, over 150 persons, including city, county, and township officials from both Pennsylvania and Ohio discussed the merits and possibilities of connecting Ohio Route 18, with Pennsylvania Route 16.

John B. Brettell, president of the Seventh Ward Civic club and Street Commissioner for the city, was chairman of the meeting.

It was brought out, during the session, that the Ohio route and the Pennsylvania routes are two different roads, and by making this proposed connecting link of about ten miles distance, these two great highways might be connected.

John Walters, who owns property along the proposed right-of-way, was called upon to explain this new route. Walters sketched the proposed project on a blackboard and explained it fully.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath gave his views on the subject. Mayor McGrath stated that while he was not entirely familiar with the project, he is always in favor of better roads. He also stated that he believes that this proposed roadway would divert a great deal of through traffic around New Castle.

Councilmen Joseph Alexander, J. Myron Rice, and J. Leon Pink were called on. Each of these men stated that they would lend their support for the project, and do what they could to further it.

Joseph H. Jackson, president of the Lovellville Exchange club, spoke. Mayor Ralph Scrony, of Lovellville, was also introduced and asked for his views on the project. Road supervisors from both Ohio and Pennsylvania townships were called upon.

A motion was made to have Brettell name a committee to petition the court for this roadway. Brettell announced that he would select this committee within 24 hours. This committee will also attend the meeting of the District Planning Commission to be held at the Youngstown Club on April 18.

According to Walter's description of the proposed project, the route will go out either Madison avenue or Clayton street, following the old right-of-way to old Stop 40, near Parktown Corners. From here the new route will follow the old street car route. The new roadway will pass through Edenburg, Hillsville, Struthers and Lovellville.

Many New Castle residents gave their views, at the session, and many questions were answered. The legal side of the project was also under discussion with the officials giving their interpretation of the rulings.

Remove Barrier
At Store Room

As the wooden barrier that was constructed about the room formerly occupied by the Thomas' restaurant, on North Liberty street, to protect pedestrians from danger, was removed, workmen revealed a modern store room.

This room was gutted by fire sometime ago, and since that time has been going forward towards repairing the fire damage.

NEWS BRIEFS IN WARD DISTRICT

Steel began arriving Friday afternoon for the new Cedar street sub-station of the Pennsylvania Power company. The steel was being placed about the site by the workmen, preparatory to putting it in place.

Thoughts of planting a garden were put temporarily out of the heads of many local residents, Priday, as the temperature dropped down in the vicinity of 25 degrees.

Incidentally speaking of gardening, it is a custom of some people to plant sweet peas on St. Patrick's Day, but adherents to this custom were not to be found on Friday.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS
Mrs. J. H. Pitzer, North Liberty street, has returned to her home following a visit with relatives in Youngstown.

Daniel Schnebly, who is a student at Mercersburg Academy, arrived at his home, 211 Newell avenue, Friday afternoon to commence the spring vacation period.

Mr. and Mrs. George Huff, Cedar street, and Mrs. Steve Cushman, North Liberty street, have returned from Baltimore, where they attended the funeral services held for a relative.

New Castle Consistory members were provided with a full evening of entertainment last evening, when the annual St. Patrick's Day party took place in The Cathedral.

There was the usual fine dinner served at 6:30 o'clock, followed by some splendid vaudeville entertainment, staged by professional entertainers.

The evening's program was concluded with dancing, cards, and talks for those interested in these various kinds of entertainment. The party attracted a large crowd and the occasion proved another delightful event.

Dies At Parsonage
Of Franklin Church

Mrs. Mary Jane Armstrong, 82, of Jackson Center, died Thursday evening at the First Methodist Episcopal parsonage, of Franklin, where she had been staying with her son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Locke, since last October. Services will be conducted at Jackson Center Monday at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. Armstrong's father was Rev. James Gallagher, who served Cumberland Presbyterian churches in Mercer, Venango, Butler and Lawrence counties for 50 years. She is survived by three children, Mrs. Locke, at whose home she died, Miss Stella Irene Hess, of Edenburg and James Raymond Hess, of Waukegan, Ill.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1939 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

It is becoming increasingly obvious that an important section of the political party now in power stems back to what is called "Cleveland Democracy". If that brand of political thinking can be compressed into a single phrase, we might take the words chiseled on the Supreme Court building in the national capital: "Equal Justice Under the Law."

That seems to sum up the Andrew Jackson-Grover Cleveland theory of how best to conduct the government and even-handedly administer the affairs and protect the rights and security and general well-being of all the people, rich and poor. In the past two months and a half since congress has been in session, we have seen displays of courage on the floor of house and senate which Jackson and Cleveland surely would have applauded—speeches and votes springing from the principle that no class must be favored, no class pandered to, Jackson's hatred of a centralized government and of lavish expenditures of the public money was almost fanatical. So was Cleveland's. For political courage neither has been surpassed in our entire list of chief executives.

Each was of the common people and for the common people, but neither would devote an inch from a principle to favor the common people or to win their applause. They drew their strength and support from the masses, yet they favored no class, pandered to no class. A majority of the forces of wealth may have opposed them and their principles but that majority respected their honesty and courage. Jackson and Cleveland were there to see that the few should not exploit the many and at the same time that the many should not despoil the few, and it was Cleveland who did so much to rectify Jackson's one big mistake—the introduction of the "spoils system."

The thought came to mind on this the 102nd anniversary of the birth of one of our greatest presidents, Stephen Grover Cleveland. I have an idea that the majority of our people under the age of 50 might like to know what a Cleveland Democrat is and who Cleveland was outside of being the only man who was re-elected president after having been defeated for a second consecutive term. The oldsters take too much for granted. Having lived through a certain period and having been a part of it, it never occurs to them that the story of that period and of its leaders is not fully and universally known. History takes its time before passing final judgment on a man and his record. We are still a bit close to Cleveland.

Except to students and to devoted followers who survived him and his political philosophy, he has played little or no part in the United States of the 20th century. But today, the name of Cleveland is resurgent in our national legislature, for time, and the past few years in particular, has proved the truth and value of the principles he upheld against all the windy theorists and financial and economic Tom Tinklers of his time.

Some of his principles sound strangely these days:

"Nothing is more vital to our supremacy as a nation and to the beneficent purposes of the government than a strong and stable currency. The (paternalism) is the name of republican institutions and the constant fear of government by the people. The lessons of paternalism ought to be unlearned and the better lesson taught that while the people should patriotically and cheerfully support their government its functions do not include the support of the people."

"The acceptance of this principle leads to a refusal of bounties and subsidies, which burden the labor and thrust of a portion of our citizens to aid ill-advised and languishing enterprises in which they have no concern."

"Our fealty to party rests upon something higher and nobler than an instinct to blindly follow adventurous leadership, regardless of consequences. It is a plain dictate of honest and good government that public expenditures should be limited by public necessity, and that this should be measured by the rules of strict economy, and it is equally clear that frugality among the people is the best guaranty of a contented and strong support of free institutions."

A great American, Grover Cleveland, whose stature will increase with time.
